Trade spened very firm at the beginning of the week both in the country and Mark Lane, and there was an advance of 28. to 38. on wheat and 18. on the sace and barrel of flour. A large business was done in London on Monday, but on Wednesday the edge seemed taken off the trade, as, having satisfied their more pressing needs, the millers seemed disposed to stand aloof and watch the curse of events. At the same time a fair degree of steadiness has been preserved, the imports into London having been quite moderato; but the excitement of ton days since has been altogether wanting. In occasional instances, where sales were pressed, sellers accorted is, less money; but as a rule the late advance was been maintained, nor does there appeared to a summarize the continuous rather than over ostimated and it is doubtful whether Russia and Germany Cream for beliance index rather than over ostimated and it is doubtful whether Russia and Germany charters are companied by a smart advance of prices, business has come to a panse, not from any inherent weakness, or from the effect of any of those causes which tend to depression, but simply through a judicious cessation of operations on the part of buyers in order to give time to thoroughly examine the situation, unbiassed by exciting influences, with a view to future transactions. COURT HOUSE COMMISSIONERS.

Some time since the Central Taxpayers' Association preferred a long series of charges against the Commissioners of the new County Court House. This same association was induced previous to this by a man named O'Rourke to ask Mayor Cooper to "investigate" the accounts of the Comptroller's office. His Honor at the time stated that he had no faith whatever in the stories and flally refused to order the books of the Finance Department to be opened to O'Rourke and his colleagues. After their failure to have Mr. Kelly investigated the association proceeded to investigate the doings of the Court House Commissioners. In their report on the subject very damaging statements, if true, were made against the method of conducting business in the Court House, and the report was considered so important as to demand a reply on the part of the accused Commissioners. This answer has just been sent to Mayor Cooper. It is signed by three of the Commissioners—Messrs. Willis Blackstone, John P. Cumming and Thomas B. Tappan—the signature of the fourth one, Mr. Francis Blossing, not appearing on the reply. A general denial is put in to each and every charge made against them, and the reply takes up about thirty pages of legal cap. The Mayor, in conclusion, is requested to dismiss the charges as frivolous. Particular stress is laid in the report to a defence of the Commissioners' action in reference to altering a contract when once awarded, and the conclusion is reached that there is no foundation whatever for the charges made in this connection. It is claimed that the Commissioners acted by authority of the legal advisor of the city—the Corporation Counsel. failure to have Mr. Kelly investigated the associaTHE COURTS.

The United States Circuit Court, criminal branch, was opened yesterday by Judge Benedict, and the final report of the Grand Jury was received. This report presented indictments against the following:—Henry Clipton, for passing counterfeit trade dollars; Claudius Berenice, for resisting a Custom House officer: Thomas Ryan, Dennis Hickey, Thomas M'Carthy, and Edward Ryan, passing counterfeit trade dollars; John Williams, Kate West, and James Kelly, passing counterfeit notes: Charles Anderson, assault on the high seas; and Charles Passler, embezgling letters. The recognizances of the following persons are declared forfoited:—Martin Engel, George Jantzer, Abraham Risenberger, Hannah B. Birdsall, Thomas Murphy, William Hallahan, and Julia S. Harriott. The Grand Jury were then discharged. The trial term of the court will open today before Judge Benedict.

SUMMARY OF LAW CASES. The hearing upon the writ of error in the case of nastine Cox, the murderer of Mrs. Hull, which was set down before the General Term yesterday, was adjourned by mutual consent to some future date, to be agreed upon by counsel.

Amelia Kenney was brought before United States Commissioner Shields, yesterday, charged with at-tempting to pass a counterfeit five dollar note on the National Bank of Pawling. She was held in $250 bail for examination.

for examination.

The Court of Oyer and Terminer met yesterday, with Judge Denohue on the Bench. There were a few election cases on the calendar, but on motion they were adjourned until the November term. Judge Denohue said that he would be unable to hold Court before the 20th inst., to which time it was then adjourned.

The matter of probating the will of the late Miss Louisians St. John came before the Surrogate yesterday. Counsel for the next of kin stated that he could not yet determine whether there would be any objections made to the probate of the will, and by consent it was concluded to adjourn the matter until the 17th inst. Miss St. John, it will be remembered, was the spinster millionnaire who died some time since, leaving numerous charitable bequests.

remembered, was the spinster millionnaire who due some time since, leaving numerous charitable bequests.

The death announced in yesterday's Herald of Reuben Rowley caused quite a sensation in the courts. Mr. Rowley was the oldest member of the New York Bar, and was formerly the preceptor of Chief Justice Daly, the latter having been a student in his office. It was stated yesterday that had the Judge received earlier notice of Mr. Rowley's demise an adjournment would have taken place out of respect to his memory.

John Martin, one of the crew of the Norwegian bark Kalliston, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Marshai Wattles and brought before United States Commissioner Betts on a charge of desertion. He was committed to Ludlow Street Jail, where three others of the crew of the same vessel have been confined since Monday last, awaiting orders from the Norwegian Consul for their return to the vessel when ready to resume her homeward voyage.

Lena Simmermayer brought suit against Jacob Haffner to recover damages for assault and battory, and defendant was held in $200 bail. In Chambers of the Marine Court, yesterday, before Judge Shea, Mr. Gabriel Levy, counsel for the defendant, moved to vacate the order of arrest on the ground, among others, that it was dated on Sunday. This irregularity was held to be fatal, and the order of arrest was vacated.

CALENDAR.

The following is the May calendar for Wednesd October 8:—Nos. 58, 68, 22, 410, 79, 77, 28, and 18. HARBOR DESTROYERS PUNISHED.

The Board of Pilot Commissioners met yesterday, President Ambrose Snow in the chair. The case of the steamship Main, of the North-German Lloyd line, whose officers are accused of dumping ashes in the bay on August 22, 1879, was placed in the hands of Counsel William Allen Butler for prosecution. The owners of the steamboat Sylvan Glen, fined $100 for dumping ashes in the bay off Fort Lafayette, petitioned the Board to remit the fine, but their request was refused. Several of the pilots asked the Commissioners to have the buoy at the entrance of Gedney's Channel removed, as they claimed it was dangerous to navigation, but no action was taken in the matter. Inspector Joseph Conway submitted a complaint made against Captain Brooks, of the ship Harry Morse, for having, on September 20 last, ordered one and a half tons of guano and rubbish to be thrown from his ship into the water while lying near the Wall street stores, Brooklyn. Inspector Conway also stated that Captain Brooks was present during the dumping and that it occurred after dark. The Board imposed a fine on the owners of the Harry Morse, but refused to state the amount. Inspector Conway further reported that on September 30, while he was down the bay on the tug Alanson Summer, the vessel grounded while crossing the East Bank, and when she made an effort to get off the motion of the wheels brought to the surface quantities of ashes, mud and rubbish, showing that the East Bank is covered with refuse from the city.
